PREFACE

This annotated bibliography was designed to provide Extension personnel with up-to-date information on local government publications. The bibliography contains a wide assortment of reports, pamphlets, leaflets and circulars. It also covers every portion of local government from community development to employment, from labor and management relations to rural development.

For the benefit of all staff members, and interested citizens, each publication is accompanied with an address where that publication can be found and ordered.

Although this is our first publication of local government material, we are hoping it will not be the last. With your assistance and cooperation in sending reports, studies, projects etc. to us on local government, the annotated bibliography can become an annual publication.

Before closing special thanks goes to Jack Timmons, former IPA Local Government, for initiating this bibliography.
